

SCHEDULE “A” TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF PUBLISHING

1. Definitions. In this Schedule:

“Abstract” means a summary of the Work prepared by or on behalf of the Author; “Author” means the author(s) and copyright holder(s) who signed the Submission form; “Corresponding author” means the author designated by the Author(s) as their representative; “Journal” means the Canadian Journal of Soil Science/Revue Canadienne de la science du sol; “Publisher” means the AIC and CSSS; “Submission” means the Submission Form to which this schedule is attached; and “Work” means the Work described in the Submission, subject to changes as contemplated herein, in English or French, and any translations or revisions thereof.

2. Grant of rights. The Author grants to the Publisher the world-wide right to publish the Work and the Abstract. The Publisher may publish or permit the publication of the Work and/or the Abstract: (i) in the Journal; (ii) on the World Wide Web; (iii) on CD ROM or other electronic means; (iv) and other forms and editions. The rights granted herein shall endure for the full term of copyright in the Work.

3. Changes. The Publisher shall not make any changes to the Work (in its original language of composition) without the consent of the Corresponding Author provided that such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. The Author grants the Publisher the right to add a French or English translation of the Abstract to the Work if both are not provided by the Author. The Publisher shall submit the Work to the Corresponding Author for approval after copy editing. The title of the Work shall be changed only by mutual consent of the Corresponding Author and the Publisher.

4. Initial publishing details. The Publisher agrees to initially publish the Work in the Journal within 12 months of its acceptance of the final version unless it is mutually agreed by the Publisher and the Corresponding Author to postpone publication in the best interests of the Work, but failure to publish within such period shall not be a breach of this agreement if the delay is caused by any circumstances beyond the Publisher’s control.

5. Copyright. Subject to the rights granted to the Publisher herein, as between the Publisher and the Author, copyright of the Work remains in the Authors or their employer(s). However, for convenience purposes, the Author hereby authorizes (but does not require) the Publisher to assert copyright on behalf of the Author as against third parties. The Publisher and Authors will proceed jointly to assert copyright.

6. Notices. Any notice or other communication which the Publisher or the Corresponding Author may desire, or have the right, or be obligated, to give under this Schedule shall be in writing and shall be sent to the others at their address on the initial Submission or to such other address or person as such party may advise the other in writing.
