

Abida Ouyed
General Manager
Swine Innovation Porc

Abida has been with Swine Innovation Porc, a national, non-profit organization that facilitates R&D and knowledge transfer for the Canadian swine sector since its beginnings in 2010, where she began as Research Coordinator and led the implementation of the swine industry's first nationally-driven R&D program: the Swine Cluster. Abida speaks four languages fluently and holds a Master's degree in Agronomy from Laval University in Quebec. She has worked in the agriculture sector since 1998 and enjoys her current role as General Manager.
