

Tamara El-Shibib

Tamara is a Senior Patent and Technology Transfer Consultant based in Gowling WLG's Dubai office. She specializes in patents, technology transfer and IP commercialisation and works predominantly with regional universities and research institutes to manage their patent portfolios and implement IP management and technology transfer solutions to support IP commercialisation.

Tamara has been based in the Middle East since 2009. She worked previously for the Qatar Foundation (QF). At QF, Tamara played an instrumental role in the growth and establishment of IP management and technology transfer practices to support the national mission of driving economic growth through innovation.

Tamara also previously worked with a Dubai-based IP legal consulting firm where she advised an international agricultural research centre on IP protection and commercialisation and assisted a local government entity in establishing a proof of concept program to support technology maturation.