

Jeff Coles, M.Sc., LLB
Partner – Patent and Trademark Agent
Gowling WLG

Jeff Coles is a partner in Gowling WLG's Calgary office and a registered Canadian and United States patent agent. He is a lawyer who holds an advanced degree in medical sciences. He has been assisting clients with securing patent protection for their innovations for over a decade.

Jeff specializes in intellectual property matters involving innovation-intensive industries such as life sciences (pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, medical devices and biotechnology generally), agrotechnology, cleantech, oil and gas, environmental technologies and energy.

With client activities spanning the globe, Jeff has acted on behalf of a comprehensive range of clients, including entrepreneurs, start-ups, early-stage ventures, universities, government organizations, SMEs and multinational corporations.

Jeff obtained significant research experience through his post-graduate studies at the University of Alberta and his work at the Chemical Biological Defence Section of the Canadian Department of National Defence.